COURSE REQUIREMENTS (Please attach a transcript)

The CCM Certificate requires 20 points of coursework which must be fulfilled along with the PhD requirements of the candidate's home department. (Relevant courses may be double-counted toward the Certificate and the PhD.). These include:

- The required course "Introduction to Comparative Media" (4 points; must be taken for a letter grade).
- At least four other designated courses (minimum 16 points). Eight points must be taken for a letter grade. At least three of these courses must be outside of the student's home department or in subjects that address geographic areas and/or historical periods outside of the student's primary field of research.
- Dissertation colloquium: Comparative Media Workshop. This is a dissertation writing workshop in which CCM students present their work in progress.
